

result of the gubernatorial contest, although all the probabilities are in Chamberlain's favor, it is very clear that the State will go for Hayes and Wheeler."

THE STATE CANVASS.

New-York is Republican on a full vote, and the full vote is coming.

"Some of the opponents of the amendment relation to the State Prisons ought to be sent there," says The Evening Post, and The Post is right.

Vote for both the constitutional amendments. A ballot which can be cut out and voted is printed near the foot of the last column on the 11th page of this paper.

How do hard-money men like the promises of the Albany Argus to the Greenback party of "influence" with Gov. Tilden's Administration in return for their votes?

Frederick W. Seward deserves a large majority in the 7th Senatorial District. He will make a distinguished member of a Senate which has already won a high reputation for ability.

Remember that while in the last ten years the earnings of the State prisons have been $4,234,635, the expenditures have been $3,453,610, and the deficit $6,265,297. A vote for the State Prison amendment is to save the State half a million dollars a year.

No Republican in this city ought to be kept from the polls by the preponderance of Tammany Hall. The Republican candidates will come to Spuyten Duyvil with a handsome majority, and every Republican vote cast in this city cancels one Democratic vote, and so leaves the majority in this city which the Republicans most overrule. See to it that your vote is cast.

"Three hundred and fifty millions—this is the little sum which Mr. Tilden is to save. Says The Albany Argus: 'Mr. Tilden knows how to take care of the public credit.' He is adept at questions of finance. He will in effect be his own Secretary of the Treasury, to put the public credit on a solid basis, and save $350,000,000 a year to the people in interest alone."

The Utica Herald gives this incident: "I shall not vote for Tilden," said a prominent Democrat, on Saturday evening, "and I personally know in my little village 15 other Democrats who will refuse to support him." The gentleman is a resident of one of the chief villages in a neighboring agricultural county. Let Republicans be vigilant and active, and they will be surprised at the extent of their popularity.

It is a satisfaction to know that there is little probability of the election of either G. W. Betts or Joseph Hoffman, Jr., Republican candidates for the Assembly from the 7th and 12th Districts in this city. These were two of the five men who voted against the Republican caucus decision last winter on the Brooklyn Charter, and did it under very suspicious circumstances. They made no demand for an investigation of the charges freely made by their fellow-members and reported in the New York papers, and did not follow the example of their colleague, Mr. Watts, when he was finally coaxed into doing so. Investigation of their share in the transaction was only finally had on motion of Mr. Hamilton Fish, Jr., whose remarks on the subject were pointed out that he came only short of making the actual charge of corruption on the floor. The two men obtained a resolution, it is a mystery, not because neither of them had and displayed the slightest hostility to Assembly nominations—but both had been guilty of party treachery. Their reelection would merely give them further opportunity to betray their constituents, and they are much better off at home.

It may be well enough to take a parting

look at the two men before choosing between them. This is the Troy Times' comparison: "The Democrats pretend to think Mr. Hayes is not a statesman. But he was a well educated youth, and Mr. Tilden was not. He studied law and jurisprudence under Story and Griswold. Mr. Tilden had no such training. Mr. Hayes was elected Corporation Counsel of Cincinnati for two terms. Mr. Tilden has never held an executive municipal office. Mr. Hayes served four years in the war, rising from captain to brigadier-general. Mr. Tilden was a defense attorney through the war, wrecking railroads and trying to wreck his country. Mr. Hayes served in the XXXIXth and XLth Congresses, and was a diligent worker, always in his seat, and never failing to vote and vote right on all questions. Mr. Tilden has never been in Congress, and has never held a United States office of any kind. Mr. Hayes has been three times elected Governor of Ohio, defeating Pendleton, Thurman, and Allen, the three Democratic leaders of that state who are statesmen and hold high reputation. Mr. Hayes is the only man in the country, in education and training, in patriotism, in official experience, and may be properly called a statesman."

The New-York delegation in the next Assembly will not be a distinguished one. There were strong reasons why there should have been an exceptional delegation next year. The necessity of wise and intelligent action upon the report of the Charter Commission was the greatest of them. Whatever there is good, however, in the delegation will come from the Republicans. Elliot C. Cowdin, Dr. Hayes, and Messrs. Strother, Grant, and Englehart will make, if all are elected, the most efficient and the most trustworthy members of that delegation, and will do honor to the House. They will represent the City of New-York as it should be represented. But the list of Democratic nominees may be searched almost in vain for the name of any man of ability adequate to the place, and with even greater hopelessness for the names of men of character. Mr. O'Hare in the XVIIIth District is a young man of good record, but narrow ability, and Mr. Evesham in the XIXth is a Columbia College graduate of some promise. But the remaining 19 candidates can be dismissed as ward politicians, and some of the lowest type. The nomination of Francis B. Spinola, for instance, is about as disgraceful as any even Tammany Hall could have made. An improvement in the character of our legislative representative seems almost as far off as ever, and even further off than ever if Tammany Hall is to furnish us nothing but a bunch of rascals throughout the state. That is in any way district the Republican is the more decent man of the two. Every good citizen will find it a safe rule to vote for the Republican candidate for assembly—with the exception of Messrs. Betts and Hoffman—in every district in the city.

GENERAL NOTES.

There are now in England eight survivors of the battle of Trafalgar—the last of Nelson's great naval conflicts. Three of these were midshipmen then and admirals now.

The Chinese Commission, which has been conducting a thorough investigation in San Francisco, seems to have established one fact, namely, that the 35,000 residents of Chinatown go unwashed except at rare intervals.

The English Anti-Tobacco Society and Anti-Smoke League, at its recent meeting in Manchester, pointed out as the "three great evils weighing on the world and civilization": (1) The use of tobacco for smoking; (2) the use of alcohol for drinking; (3) the sale of dead animals or flesh eating.

A Belgian police officer was murdered three weeks ago by a prisoner who was traveling with him in a railway carriage from Ostend to Brussels. The prisoner, who was charged with murdering a police officer, a woman, and a child, was a notorious烟民 (smoker), and was shot in the head with a pistol which was on his wrists, and made his escape from the train, taking his victim's money, watch, and great coat. Officer and prisoner occupied a single compartment of the railway carriage.

A colored barber named Thompson, who lives in Independence, Mo., met with a very singular accident while chaiting his son. He raised his arm to strike the boy on the back, and while the blow was descending the boy dodged, and the uplifted hand came down with such force on the father's shoulder that it caused the boy to fall to the ground. The boy's hand was on the father's shoulder, and made his escape from the chair, taking his victim's money, watch, and great coat. Officer and prisoner occupied a single compartment of the railway carriage.

We still believe that victory is within the grasp of the Republicans, and that it is an easy task to be assured of it. The editor of the Tribune is right when he says that for Hayes and Wheeler to succeed, the people must support them.

If Gov. Hayes should be elected on the popular vote, and should die before the counting of the votes of the Electoral College, who is it reasonable to suppose, would receive the sole vote of the Republican States? It would be no other than President Grant.—Cleveland Plain Dealer (Dem.).

J. W. Martin and J. Henry Stone, in a published card, also denounce as false the charge that the men composing the procession were disorderly. Mr. Martin acted as a marshal, Mr. Stone is an ex-state Senator, from Union County, N. J., and a man whose words is said to be impenetrable.

REVIEWS OF THE POLITICAL FIELD IN THIS STATE are hopeful of Republican success in the general election. The State casting its vote for Hayes and Wheeler is the only safe result that the nation can expect from the election of the men of the party.

With Europe on the eve of a great war, and with the United States on the march to recovery from the effects of the Civil War, the business men of the country are trying to run the editorial columns of the Oakland Transcript. After systematically stealing our editorials for some time past and reprinting them word for word as their own, he has the cheek to say that the men's fortunes were turned. The boy's head showed no signs of the punishment.

Sweet are the amenities of Nevada journalism. Quoth the Gold Hill News: "Old Quares, the most egotistical, empty-headed old editorial fraud ever infesting a newspaper office, is evidently trying to run the editorial columns of the Oakland Transcript. After systematically stealing our editorials for some time past and reprinting them word for word as his own, he has the cheek to say that the men's fortunes were turned."

Three hoodlums, all under age and graduates of the industrial schools, performed a log of beer in the suburbs of San Francisco, assaulted a brewer, and ran off with a baker's buggy. The youthful thieves were promptly arrested, and one of them was convicted on a charge of stealing beer. The friends of the hoodlums then came to the front and by liquidating the damage which had been done to the brewer, and loaning themselves to the neutrality of the brewer. The baker's larceny case was eaten up for trial last week, and the minds and memories of all the witnesses were perfect blanks. The court promptly ordered the trial to be adjourned, and the officers for arresting the lads on trifling charges. The环绕ing was accompanied by a grim reference to the injustice of robbing twelve infant juries from the bosom of their families to hang up nothing. Hoodlum justice is an interesting study of the jurisprudence of the century.

A manegere was sold at auction in San Francisco ten days ago. A laughing hyena brought $6,000, and a big elephant $4,000. The auctioneer made a great hit with the parrot. "Now, gents, here is one of the bluest parrots on the American Continent, swear like a bar-bar-coast pirate, knows the whole first Testament and can sing the Tra-la-la like Jenny Lind, how much I'm offered!" "Five cents, guess you don't know what you're buying," went the bid. "Ten dollars, every man who knows Tennessee all by heart'll outwear any man in the crowd just the thing for his children." "Twenty bits," bid the hyena. "How much?" "Twenty-five." The judge then said: "I suppose that the trouble arises out of a habit of speaking low in the sick room."

A horse doctor was brought up in the Maine Supreme Court as a witness. He replies low to the many questions he was asked, and the court, after hearing the testimony of the majority of the officers of the company, to whom he had been a witness, and the sharp rebuke of the court, he failed to be discharged. The people long for a change of administration, the business men sigh for it in their own hearts, the unemployed laborer and his poverty-stricken family pray fervently for it; and our humor and severity as a nation depend on it. Let the people in every hamlet in the land decide the coming fate of the country, and let the election on Tuesday next, and an era of prosperity and peace will ensue such as this distracted country has not known for sixteen years.—Cincinnati Enquirer (Dem.).

How do hard-money men like the promises of the Albany Argus to the Greenback party of "influence" with Gov. Tilden's Administration in return for their votes?

Frederick W. Seward deserves a large majority in the 7th Senatorial District. He will make a distinguished member of a Senate which has already won a high reputation for ability.

Remember that while in the last ten years the earnings of the State prisons have been $4,234,635, the expenditures have been $3,453,610, and the deficit $6,265,297. A vote for the State Prison amendment is to save the State half a million dollars a year.

No Republican in this city ought to be kept from the polls by the preponderance of Tammany Hall.

The Republican candidates will come to Spuyten Duyvil with a handsome majority, and every Republican vote cast in this city cancels one Democratic vote, and so leaves the majority in this city which the Republicans most overrule. See to it that your vote is cast.

"Three hundred and fifty millions—this is the little sum which Mr. Tilden is to save. Says The Albany Argus: 'Mr. Tilden knows how to take care of the public credit.'

He is adept at questions of finance. He will in effect be his own Secretary of the Treasury, to put the public credit on a solid basis, and save $350,000,000 a year to the people in interest alone."

The Utica Herald gives this incident: "I shall not vote for Tilden," said a prominent Democrat, on Saturday evening, "and I personally know in my little village 15 other Democrats who will refuse to support him." The gentleman is a resident of one of the chief villages in a neighboring agricultural county. Let Republicans be vigilant and active, and they will be surprised at the extent of their popularity.

It is a satisfaction to know that there is little probability of the election of either G. W. Betts or Joseph Hoffman, Jr., Republican candidates for the Assembly from the 7th and 12th Districts in this city. These were two of the five men who voted against the Republican caucus decision last winter on the Brooklyn Charter, and did it under very suspicious circumstances. They made no demand for an investigation of the charges freely made by their fellow-members and reported in the New York papers, and did not follow the example of their colleague, Mr. Watts, when he was finally coaxed into doing so. Investigation of their share in the transaction was only finally had on motion of Mr. Hamilton Fish, Jr., whose remarks on the subject were pointed out that he came only short of making the actual charge of corruption on the floor. This is the Troy Times' comparison: "The Democrats pretend to think Mr. Hayes is not a statesman. But he was a well educated youth, and Mr. Tilden was not. He studied law and jurisprudence under Story and Griswold. Mr. Tilden had no such training. Mr. Hayes was elected Corporation Counsel of Cincinnati for two terms. Mr. Tilden has never held an executive municipal office. Mr. Hayes served four years in the war, rising from captain to brigadier-general. Mr. Tilden was a defense attorney through the war, wrecking railroads and trying to wreck his country. Mr. Hayes served in the XXXIXth and XLth Congresses, and was a diligent worker, always in his seat, and never failing to vote and vote right on all questions. Mr. Tilden has never been in Congress, and has never held a United States office of any kind. Mr. Hayes has been three times elected Governor of Ohio, defeating Pendleton, Thurman, and Allen, the three Democratic leaders of that state who are statesmen and hold high reputation. Mr. Hayes is the only man in the country, in education and training, in patriotism, in official experience, and may be properly called a statesman."

The New-York delegation in the next Assembly will not be a distinguished one. There were strong reasons why there should have been an exceptional delegation next year. The necessity of wise and intelligent action upon the report of the Charter Commission was the greatest of them. Whatever there is good, however, in the delegation will come from the Republicans. Elliot C. Cowdin, Dr. Hayes, and Messrs. Strother, Grant, and Englehart will make, if all are elected, the most efficient and the most trustworthy members of that delegation, and will do honor to the House. They will represent the City of New-York as it should be represented. But the list of Democratic nominees may be searched almost in vain for the name of any man of ability adequate to the place, and with even greater hopelessness for the names of men of character. Mr. O'Hare in the XVIIIth District is a young man of good record, but narrow ability, and Mr. Evesham in the XIXth is a Columbia College graduate of some promise. But the remaining 19 candidates can be dismissed as ward politicians, and some of the lowest type. The nomination of Francis B. Spinola, for instance, is about as disgraceful as any even Tammany Hall could have made. An improvement in the character of our legislative representative seems almost as far off as ever, and even further off than ever if Tammany Hall is to furnish us nothing but a bunch of rascals throughout the state. That is in any way district the Republican is the more decent man of the two. Every good citizen will find it a safe rule to vote for the Republican candidate for assembly—with the exception of Messrs. Betts and Hoffman—in every district in the city.

It may be well enough to take a parting

look at the two men before choosing between them. This is the Troy Times' comparison: "The Democrats pretend to think Mr. Hayes is not a statesman. But he was a well educated youth, and Mr. Tilden was not. He studied law and jurisprudence under Story and Griswold. Mr. Tilden had no such training. Mr. Hayes was elected Corporation Counsel of Cincinnati for two terms. Mr. Tilden has never held an executive municipal office. Mr. Hayes served four years in the war, rising from captain to brigadier-general. Mr. Tilden was a defense attorney through the war, wrecking railroads and trying to wreck his country. Mr. Hayes served in the XXXIXth and XLth Congresses, and was a diligent worker, always in his seat, and never failing to vote and vote right on all questions. Mr. Tilden has never been in Congress, and has never held a United States office of any kind. Mr. Hayes has been three times elected Governor of Ohio, defeating Pendleton, Thurman, and Allen, the three Democratic leaders of that state who are statesmen and hold high reputation. Mr. Hayes is the only man in the country, in education and training, in patriotism, in official experience, and may be properly called a statesman."

The New-York delegation in the next Assembly will not be a distinguished one. There were strong reasons why there should have been an exceptional delegation next year. The necessity of wise and intelligent action upon the report of the Charter Commission was the greatest of them. Whatever there is good, however, in the delegation will come from the Republicans. Elliot C. Cowdin, Dr. Hayes, and Messrs. Strother, Grant, and Englehart will make, if all are elected, the most efficient and the most trustworthy members of that delegation, and will do honor to the House. They will represent the City of New-York as it should be represented. But the list of Democratic nominees may be searched almost in vain for the name of any man of ability adequate to the place, and with even greater hopelessness for the names of men of character. Mr. O'Hare in the XVIIIth District is a young man of good record, but narrow ability, and Mr. Evesham in the XIXth is a Columbia College graduate of some promise. But the remaining 19 candidates can be dismissed as ward politicians, and some of the lowest type. The nomination of Francis B. Spinola, for instance, is about as disgraceful as any even Tammany Hall could have made. An improvement in the character of our legislative representative seems almost as far off as ever, and even further off than ever if Tammany Hall is to furnish us nothing but a bunch of rascals throughout the state. That is in any way district the Republican is the more decent man of the two. Every good citizen will find it a safe rule to vote for the Republican candidate for assembly—with the exception of Messrs. Betts and Hoffman—in every district in the city.

It may be well enough to take a parting

look at the two men before choosing between them. This is the Troy Times' comparison: "The Democrats pretend to think Mr. Hayes is not a statesman. But he was a well educated youth, and Mr. Tilden was not. He studied law and jurisprudence under Story and Griswold. Mr. Tilden had no such training. Mr. Hayes was elected Corporation Counsel of Cincinnati for two terms. Mr. Tilden has never held an executive municipal office. Mr. Hayes served four years in the war, rising from captain to brigadier-general. Mr. Tilden was a defense attorney through the war, wrecking railroads and trying to wreck his country. Mr. Hayes served in the XXXIXth and XLth Congresses, and was a diligent worker, always in his seat, and never failing to vote and vote right on all questions. Mr. Tilden has never been in Congress, and has never held a United States office of any kind. Mr. Hayes has been three times elected Governor of Ohio, defeating Pendleton, Thurman, and Allen, the three Democratic leaders of that state who are statesmen and hold high reputation. Mr. Hayes is the only man in the country, in education and training, in patriotism, in official experience, and may be properly called a statesman."

The New-York delegation in the next Assembly will not be a distinguished one. There were strong reasons why there should have been an exceptional delegation next year. The necessity of wise and intelligent action upon the report of the Charter Commission was the greatest of them. Whatever there is good, however, in the delegation will come from the Republicans. Elliot C. Cowdin, Dr. Hayes, and Messrs. Strother, Grant, and Englehart will make, if all are elected, the most efficient and the most trustworthy members of that delegation, and will do honor to the House. They will represent the City of New-York as it should be represented. But the list of Democratic nominees may be searched almost in vain for the name of any man of ability adequate to the place, and with even greater hopelessness for the names of men of character. Mr. O'Hare in the XVIIIth District is a young man of good record, but narrow ability, and Mr. Evesham in the XIXth is a Columbia College graduate of some promise. But the remaining 19 candidates can be dismissed as ward politicians, and some of the lowest type. The nomination of Francis B. Spinola, for instance, is about as disgraceful as any even Tammany Hall could have made. An improvement in the character of our legislative representative seems almost as far off as ever, and even further off than ever if Tammany Hall is to furnish us nothing but a bunch of rascals throughout the state. That is in any way district the Republican is the more decent man of the two. Every good citizen will find it a safe rule to vote for the Republican candidate for assembly—with the exception of Messrs. Betts and Hoffman—in every district in the city.

It may be well enough to take a parting

look at the two men before choosing between them. This is the Troy Times' comparison: "The Democrats pretend to think Mr. Hayes is not a statesman. But he was a well educated youth, and Mr. Tilden was not. He studied law and jurisprudence under Story and Griswold. Mr. Tilden had no such training. Mr. Hayes was elected Corporation Counsel of Cincinnati for two terms. Mr. Tilden has never held an executive municipal office. Mr. Hayes served four years in the war, rising from captain to brigadier-general. Mr. Tilden was a defense attorney through the war, wrecking railroads and trying to wreck his country. Mr. Hayes served in the XXXIXth and XLth Congresses, and was a diligent worker, always in his seat, and never failing to vote and vote right on all questions. Mr. Tilden has never been in Congress, and has never held a United States office of any kind. Mr. Hayes has been three times elected Governor of Ohio, defeating Pendleton, Thurman, and Allen, the three Democratic leaders of that state who are statesmen and hold high reputation. Mr. Hayes is the only man in the country, in education and training, in patriotism, in official experience, and may be properly called a statesman."

The New-York delegation in the next Assembly will not be a distinguished one. There were strong reasons why there should have been an exceptional delegation next year. The necessity of wise and intelligent action upon the report of the Charter Commission was the greatest of them. Whatever there is good, however, in the delegation will come from the Republicans. Elliot C. Cowdin, Dr. Hayes, and Messrs. Strother, Grant, and Englehart will make, if all are elected, the most efficient and the most trustworthy members of that delegation, and will do honor to the House. They will represent the City of New-York as it should be represented. But the list of Democratic nominees may be searched almost in vain for the name of any man of ability adequate to the place, and with even greater hopelessness for the names of men of character. Mr. O'Hare in the XVIIIth District is a young man of good record, but narrow ability, and Mr. Evesham in the XIXth is a Columbia College graduate of some promise. But the remaining 19 candidates can be dismissed as ward politicians, and some of the lowest type. The nomination of Francis B. Spinola, for instance, is about as disgraceful as any even Tammany Hall could have made. An improvement in the character of our legislative representative seems almost as far off as ever, and even further off than ever if Tammany Hall is to furnish us nothing but a bunch of rascals throughout the state. That is in any way district the Republican is the more decent man of the two. Every good citizen will find it a safe rule to vote for the Republican candidate for assembly—with the exception of Messrs. Betts and Hoffman—in every district in the city.

It may be well enough to take a parting

look at the two men before choosing between them. This is the Troy Times' comparison: "The Democrats pretend to think Mr. Hayes is not a statesman. But he was a well educated youth, and Mr. Tilden was not. He studied law and jurisprudence under Story and Griswold. Mr. Tilden had no such training. Mr. Hayes was elected Corporation Counsel of Cincinnati for two terms. Mr. Tilden has never held an executive municipal office. Mr. Hayes served four years in the war, rising from captain to brigadier-general. Mr. Tilden was a defense attorney through the war,